REGULATIONS

FOR THE

MANAGEMENT OF THE LIBRARY.

I. MEETINGS of the Proprietors of the Library shall be held four times a year, viz. on the first Tuesday of January, first Tuesday of April, first Tuesday of July, and the second Tuesday of November, in the Library Room, at twelve o'clock on each of these days.

II. OF these meetings, that on the first Tuesday in July is in future to be held as the GENERAL MEETING, (being more convenient for the country members than the second Tuesday of November, formerly fixed for that purpose). The Library accounts are then to be settled for the preceding year; the principal commission given for purchasing books; the preses, four curators, clerk, and treasurer, chosen for the ensuing year; and the regulations, for the management of the Library, enacted, altered, or repealed.

III. IF, at any of these subordinate quarterly meetings, a book exceeding the value of 11. sterling, sterling, proposed by any member to be purchased, be objected to by any two members present, the proposal shall lie on the table till next quarterly meeting; and it shall be determined by that meeting, whether or not the book is to be bought.

IV. ANY proprietor of the Library may receive out of it, and have in his possession at one time, a number of books or volumes, not exceeding six: But of such books as have not been a full year in the Library, that number is only allowed to be taken out when they are volumes of the same work. When they are of different works, only two volumes of such books as have not been a year in the Library, shall be taken out by, or be in the possession of, any proprietor at one time. But the number of six volumes may, if he pleases, be made up, by his taking out other books that have been longer than a year in the Library.

V. BOOKS in folio, or quarto, may be kept out of the Library for the space of two calendar months; and those in octavo, or a smaller form, one month; and when one or more of them are kept out beyond that time, the person who detains them shall be liable to a fine of one shilling for each volume so detained; and the fine shall be repeated for each month the book or books are with-held from the Library. The librarian shall not give out any more books to the person in fault, until he hath restored the books thus detained, and also paid the fines to which he is liable: And for these fines the librarian shall account to the first quarterly meeting.
or

VI. MAGAZINES and reviews, until bound, are to remain in the Library Room, for the use of the proprietors in general, who may peruse them there, if they please, but are not to be taken out of the room.

VII. EACH proprietor is engaged, by his promise and word of honour, not to lend, or suffer to be lent, out of his own dwelling-house, for a longer or shorter time, any book, chart, map, or pamphlet, belonging to the Library, to any person who is not a proprietor thereof:— And if it be proved to the general meeting, that he hath broken this regulation, he shall be liable to what penalty it is competent for, and shall please the meeting to impose, even to the extent of depriving him wholly of his share in the Library.

VIII. THE proprietors shall not lend any book, chart, map, or pamphlet, belonging to the Library, to one another, under a penalty or fine of one shilling for every transgression, to be paid at the first quarterly meeting where the offence shall be proved.

IX. THE librarian is strictly enjoined not to transfer any book, chart, map, or pamphlet, from one member of the Library to another, until it be brought back to the Library, and laid upon the table. And no book, chart, map, or pamphlet, shall be again taken out by the proprietor who last returned it, until it shall have remained a full week in the Library Room.

X No book, chart, map, or pamphlet, shall be commissioned or bought for the Library, but by an express order of a quarterly meeting:— And if any proprietor, or number of proprietors, or the librarian, shall take this power upon them, the curators shall not allow such book, chart, map, or pamphlet, a place in the Library.

XI. ALL books, &c. commissioned for the Library, shall be directed to the Treasurer, and remain in the Library Room till opened by one of the curators; and none of them shall be given out, till they are, in his presence, entered in the catalogue, and the words “Kello Library” written upon the title-page: And a list of these books shall be hung up in a conspicuous part of the Library, for the benefit of all concerned.

XII,

XII. ATTENDANCE will be given in the Library Room, for giving out and receiving books, on every Monday and Wednesday, from eleven to two o'clock, and on Friday from twelve to three.

XIII. THE librarian is expressly prohibited from giving out any books, charts, maps, or pamphlets, to any person without a written order from a proprietor: And as the librarian is responsible for all the books under his charge, the proprietors, and all other persons, are restricted from opening the presses, or handling the books.

XIV. Books taken out by country members shall not be left in any house in Kelfo, except in the house of a proprietor. The contravening this regulation to be subject to the same penalties as those incurred by the infringement of the 8th regulation.

XV. IT being observed that the books have often been much damaged, by not being properly packed, when carried to and from the country, it is earnestly recommended to all country proprietors, to cause the books, &c. to be either put into a box, or otherways carefully wrapped up and packed, so as to preserve them from injury in the carriage: And the librarian is enjoined to examine the books, charts, maps, and pamphlets carefully, when returned by either town or country members; and when he perceives any of them more injured than he thinks ought to have happened in the ordinary course of perusal, that he shall set apart such books, &c. and represent the case to the preses or curators for the time.

XVI. THE librarian shall not appoint any person to take charge of the books in his absence, without the consent and approbation of one or more of the curators of the Library.

XVII. ALL damage or loss of books, charts, maps, and pamphlets, shall be reported by the librarian to the quarterly meeting next following the discovery of such loss or damage; and the person who hath lost any books, charts, maps, and pamphlets, or in whose hands they have suffered damage, shall be assessed, by the said quarterly meeting, in a sum judged by them equivalent to, or necessary to repair, such loss or damage. But, if this quarterly meeting is not the general meeting in July, an appeal shall be allowed from it to the general meeting, and by this meeting the sum payable, on account of damage or loss aforesaid, shall be finally determined.

XVIII.

XVIII. WHEN the sentence of a subordinate quarterly meeting, with regard to damage or loss of books, &c. is acquiesced in by the offender, or, upon his appeal, confirmed by the general meeting, the librarian shall not give out any more books to the person assessed for such loss or damage, until the sum assessed be paid to the Treasurer of the Library, for which payment being made, the librarian must have a sufficient attestation.

XIX. AT the meeting in November, a list shall be made up of those who are then deficient in their payments to the Library, for a full year or upwards, and shall be delivered to the librarian, with orders to him not to give out to such deficients any more books until he hath an attestation from the Treasurer that they have paid up the full of their arrears.
